- It will be the team's objective to create and star in a 5 minute news report from what is rumoured to be 'hot breaking news' in the area of your event.
The teams will then be given an instruction sheet. A representative from Chordiem will also run through the rules.
- At this point, the teams will also have access to props and fancy dress for the team members to use during the challenge
- The teams read the instructions and have 30 minutes to plan the script and to decide what role every one will take.
- After the 30 minutes planning is up the teams are then issued with the camera's and are free to go at leisure to begin the filming.
- We give the teams up to 2 hours to complete the filming and be back to News HQ to avoid any penalty points. This is dependent on how far the delegates need to go to make the film, of which is agreed by the organisers prior to the event.

This activity is also ideally suited to a residential event by where the entertainment at dinner is the viewing of the films made followed by a glitzy yet spoof award ceremony. (Not included in cost below)
